Warsaw, October 3.

THE opening of the General Dyet of the Estates of the Kingdom continuing fixed to the 30th of the last Month, the King attended by all the Senators and Deputies of the Second Rank of the Nobility, went upon that Day at 9 in the Morning to the Cathedral-Church of this Place, where was celebrated the Mass of the Holy-Ghost; and his Majesty being afterwards returned to the Castle, the two Chambers assembled in the Presence of the King, who was seated on his Throne; M. the Grand Chancellor made a Speech, congratulating the Assembly in his Majesty's Name; and M. Zawiza, who was Marechal of the preceding Dyet returned an Answer to it in very submissive Terms. The Chamber of the Commons being afterwards withdrawn to the Hall where the Sessions are usually held, M. Zawiza made a Speech to them, expressing his Wishes that this Dyet might meet with better Success than the last, and recommended to the Chamber to proceed immediately to the Choice of a new Marechal, to the End that the present Situation in the Kingdom might be taken into consideration, giving at the same time his Vices of the Palatine of Cracow; but the cause that Palatine had alledged, is that at the last General Dyet which was held Prince Czartorinsky Deputy of Osweſin was now the Turn of the Palatinat of but that there was no Deputy from he ever there being no Marechal yet ch therefore by Consequence belong to Marechal to name one whom he should per to exercise that Office. The Dep domir, of Polish Russia, of Lublin, a ral other Palatinates, are bound by consent to the Election of a new Mare the Crown-General is entirely re-ef the chief Command of the Army. ral arrived here Yesterday from one o and scarcely was there ever met toget a Crowd of Senators, of Nobles of Rank, and other Persons of Distin seen at present; which has considerat Price of Provisions and Lodgings, not the Precautions that had been taken to Scarcity of both. The Bishop of Neyerour's Ambassadour, arrived here to numerous Retinue; he immediately d of his Gentlemen to the Castle, to notifi to the King, and to the Senators; upon Bishops who are at present in this City to compliment him on his Arrival; he had a private Audience of the King, and his affairs will soon be appointed to on the subject Matter of his Embass nisters of Sweden and Russia hold conferences together about Means for Interests of the Kings their Masters sent General Dyet of the Estates of Copenhagen, Oct. 15. Prince Lubomirsky passed this Way lately on his Return from Stockholm, where he had been to congratulate his Swedish Majesty on his Accession to the Throne, on the part of the King and the Republick of Poland; the Lord Carteret is expected to continue here some time, but the Lord Polwarth waits only his Danish Majesty's Return from his Journey to Holstein, to take his Audience of Leave, in order to his Departure for England, as soon as the Lord Glenorchy his Successor shall arrive at this Court; Part of that Minister's Domesticks and Equipage being come hither already.

Hambourg, Oct. 15. Advices from Stockholm say, that the King went to Gessle after he had reviewed his Troops at Upsal; and that Adjutant-General Romanoff and several other Foreign Ministers have followed his Majesty to Gessle. They write from Petersbourg, that the Czar had given Orders that the Swedish Prisoners should be well used, and that the Commandant of that City had made Offers to some Sailors among the Number of Prisoners, who are not Natives of Sweden, to bring them into his Czarian Majesty's Service; a great Number of Artillery and Stores of Ammunition were also arrived there.

Of a Letter from St. Croix in the Island of St. Vincent, Aug. 25. Three or four Days ago a small Ship called the Greek arrived here from the Island of St. Vincent, commanded by Captain Chavary. The Passengers report, That the Factory there disapproved the Intendancy and new Regulations established by the Tobacco-Trade, had got together a great Number of many Thousands, and cut off the Supply of Water to the City: Upon which the Troops of the Garrison made a Sally upon the Rebels, who were repulsed with considerable Loss, and that the Rebels were among the Number of the Slain. The Intendant fled toward Vera Cruz. The Mutineers burned a great Quantity of Tobacco, and will neither plant nor Cultivate any unless they have the disposal of it themselves.

Madrid, Oct. 7, N. S. An Express from the Marquis de Lede brought Yesterday the Account of 14 Battalions being landed at Ceuta, and that all possible Diligence was used to transport the rest of the Troops, both Horse and Foot, designed for the Expedition upon Africa.

Paris, Oct. 22. The Count de Provans, Plenipotentiary from the King of Sardinia for the Congress at Cambray, has been here some Days; the Count de Istevan, the King of Spain's Plenipotentiary for the Congress, arrived here on the 14th. Sig. Pozzobuono, his Catholic Majesty's Minister to the King of Great Britain, is also arrived here on his Way to Hanover. He designed to have passed by Sea from Bayonne to Holland, but did not find a Ship there in Readiness to take him on Board.

Whitchall,

Whitehall, Oct. 17. One of His Majesty's Messengers arrived Yesterday from the Gohre, with Letters of the 8th Instant, O. S. giving an Account, that upon the Receipt of a second Express from Great Britain, His Majesty immediately declared his Resolution of setting out from the Gohre the next Week in order to his return home, and of meeting the Parliament very early. Sir George Byng left the Gohre the 7th, and the Earl of Sunderland intended to set out from thence the 9th in order to return to Great Britain. This Express brought Orders for the Yachts and Convoy of Men of War which are to attend His Majesty in his Passage, to be sent away with all possible dispatch; and accordingly Sir John Jennings, who is to command them, went on board this Morning.

His Majesty has been pleased to confer the Honour of Knighthood on Captain George Saunders, and Luke Schaeb Esq.
